

BRIEFINGS

FROM THE QUAYLE VICE PRESIDENTIAL LEARNING CENTER

A BUSY FALL PREDICTED

The Quayle Center is already gearing up for an extremely busy fall school season. A look at our online calendar shows a number of schools have already booked their "Vote For Me" educational program in anticipation of the 2016 presidential election. However, the pace won't slow down as we head into November and December as schools celebrate Indiana's bicentennial with our "Symbols of Indiana" educational program. The Center is also seeing a lot of new schools and destinations around the state. It's going to be a great fall! Contact us for more information about educational programming and outreach.

Students from Flint Springs Elementary take part in the "Vote For Me" presidential election program at the Quayle Center.

DOUBLING UP!

Fun fact - A number of schools work together to book outreach programming on the same day to save cost on travel mileage. For example, Hazel Dell and Noble Crossing Elementary Schools in Noblesville split the day with morning programs at one school and an afternoon program at the other.

DID YOU KNOW?

The Quayle Center features artifacts representing EVERY vice president in history. That is 47 to date, about to become 48!

EFFORTS FOR EDUCATION

The Quayle Center will begin its all important Efforts For Education Annual Campaign on July 1st. Funds raised during this campaign are used to support the educational programs and exhibits of the Center. We thank you for your continued support!

MATCHING DONATION

Does your employer have a charitable donation matching program? Recently, a Center supporter was able to secure a significant match from his employer for his Efforts for Education contribution, thus multiplying the effectiveness of his generosity. As you are planning your charitable giving, do some research and keep the Quayle Center in mind during our 2016 Efforts For Education campaign.

The driving tour will feature up to 100 guests in 50 antique automobiles as they start in Kokomo and travel to various locations to celebrate 200th birthday of our Hoosier statehood.

An interesting note - a variety of touring clubs, from bicycles to antique cars, have made the Center a destination during their travels!

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR TO SPEAK AT FORKS

Quayle Center Executive Director, Daniel Johns will be presenting a 10 a.m. excerpt of the program, Symbols of Indiana, at the Historic Forks of the Wabash (Huntington, IN) as part of their 4th of July Celebration.

Johns will travel to give presentations to adult groups around the state. For example, the past year has featured trips to the Brown County and the Bartholomew County Public Libraries. For more information, contact the Quayle Center at (260) 356-6356 or email info@historyeducates.org to set up a presentation to your group or organization!

GRANTS RECEIVED

The Quayle Center received a grant from the Hiner Family Fund at the Huntington County Community Foundation to redesign the interpretative exhibit signage in the Center. This will allow us improve the readability of our signs for our guests.

PREPARING FOR VP #48

As this fascinating 2016 election season ramps up to the national conventions and the announcements of the vice presidential candidates, please help us prepare for a new exhibit on the 48th Vice President. If you see newspapers, magazines, campaign items, etc. from the VP candidates from both sides, please save and donate them to the Center. That way, the exhibits will be ready to go on display in time for the January 20, 2017 inauguration.
